Speaker: Lindsay Caron graduated from Santa Clara University and the University of San Francisco in 2007 with Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Education and Catholic School Leadership. She is the founder and executive director of the Theology of the Body Parent School (TOBPS), taught Catholic school for grades between k-12, and served as a Parish faith formation coordinator in both CA and OR. Her expert knowledge of Theology of the Body allows her to connect this subject to topics such as Catholic Social teaching, Catechesis of the Good Shepherd model, and safe environment training. Lindsay lives in Portland with her husband and 3 small boys.

Topic: Theology of the Body is often thought of as a couple's topic, but did you know you can deep dive into the Theology of YOUR body regardless of your relationship status? Young or aging, single or married, religious or lay, the theology of each individual body is a gift from God with a unique story written inside each soul. Come learn how to discern the vocation of your body and soul at any age and stage of life. We will discuss the feminine genius, the unique gifts of the different personality types, and how to set healthy boundaries for a nurtured body and soul."

Donations: Support for funding for some of our largest expenses such as future speakers and scholarships are always appreciated! Please consider this when registering and you may also donate separate from registration. Just follow the instructions under "How to Register" and if not attending don't include the registration form.

Snacks and Wine: Feel free to bring your favorite snack and wine - there will be a table set aside for this

Personal Items: Be sure to bring Washcloth and towels as well as personal toiletries. Consider bringing a Rosary, a journal for notes, eyeglasses, earplugs, water bottle (water is provided in the dining room) , consider walking shoes, rain gear and umbrella if outdoors or participating in Stations of the Cross.
